Benj. F. Beason Reported Killed

Was Victim of Japs on Dec. 14, 1944 Was the Report to Mother Here

T-SGT. BENJAMIN F. BEASON

Mrs. B. F. Beason received a telegram from the War Department Saturday expressing deep regret that her son T-Sgt. Benjamin F. Beason was killed in action in the Philippines December 14, 1944, while a prisoner of war of the Japanese government.

Sgt. Beason enlisted at Lubbock in November, 1939 for overseas service and after having been given seven weeks training he was shipped overseas. He was to have been returned home in March after Pearl Harbor.

The last direct word that Mrs. Beason had from her son was May 3, 1942.

Sgt. Beason was born June 16, 1920. He attended school in Panhandle entirely through his schooling.

Surviving are his mother; 3 sisters, Mrs. Dan Clinton of Clarendon, Mrs. M. O. Slack and Mrs. W. R. New of Canyon; and 2 brothers, T. J. of Memphis, Tennessee, and L. D. of Panhandle.

Mrs. Beason has lived these three years under great strain; but she never gave up hopes that he would be found alive.

Jess Bewley Has Bad Burns; Fuse Box Explodes

Jess Bewley was severely burned on his hands and arms Saturday while working on construction for the Southwestern Public Service Company in Amarillo. It was fearful for many hours that he might lose his eye sight, but he was able to see by Tuesday morning.

A fuse box exploded while Jess and an Amarillo workman were working on the line. The flash burned their hands and arms.

Jess's eyes seemed to be closed when the flash came, but the intense light penetrated the lids and blinded him for 56 hours. He opened his eyes in the hospital Tuesday morning and was able to see, greatly to the relief of his family. His face was not burned in the flash.

Jess was recently discharged from the army after serving overseas where he had been wounded four times in the campaign against the Germans. He went with Company F from Canyon in January 1941, and was mustered out with the rank of Sergeant. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Bewley of Canyon.

Bond Sales For August Under the Quota for Month

Randall county was a little under the quota for the sale of Victory Bonds.

The quota for the county was set at $20,900, and the sales locally amounted to $17,634.50. This does not account for the credits which are given on the sales of bonds by citizens who buy through payroll deductions and by other means. Such a report will likely be received in a few days.

The quota for September has not been received, but will likely be approximately the same as for August.

Labor Day Was Very Quiet Affair Here

Only a small percent of the business houses of Canyon took Monday off for Labor Day.

Most citizens carried on their work as usual due to the manpower shortage which is still accute in Canyon. Those citizens who took the day off spent it quietly at home.

According to reports highways are lined with traffic after the lifting of gasoline rationing, but more car trouble is developing due to old casings and old cars.

Lt. S. Downing Released From Japanese Prison

Lt. Scott Downing, brother of Mrs. Ruth Williams and Bill Downing, reported missing in action in May, was reported released from a Jap Prison Camp Saturday.

Mrs. Williams received a telegram from Lt. Downing's wife in Washington in which she stated that the War Department had notified her of Scott's release.

Major M. Warren Will Receive Discharge Soon

Major Meredith Warren will return to Canyon on Sept. 20, with a discharge from the Army Air Corps.

Major Warren has been in the service for five years. He received his commission in Arizona, and served at various fields before being sent to the Aleutians, where he spent 18 months while the Japs were active in that sector.

Since his return to the States he has been stationed at Salem, N. C., for more than a year. Mrs. Warren has been with him during that time.

Major Warren will resume his position with the Warren's business in partnership with his father and brother.

Buffs To Play New Mexico on Night Sept. 15

Eastern New Mexico College of Portales has finally agreed to play the Buffaloes on September 15, according to the original schedule. The New Mexico team cancelled the game last week because of the small number of men reporting for practice. However, this cancellation was changed and the team will come to Canyon to play the Buffs in the opening game at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night, Sept. 15.

Coach Gus Miller is highly pleased with the performance of the Buffs this week. Forty men reported last week for the opening of the training camp. Naturally some of these men are too light to make the team this year, but on the whole the boys are looking good.

The second game of the season will be against the Baylor Bears at Waco. This is a Southwest Conference team, and will probably be one of the strongest teams that the Buffs will meet.

Rufus Johnson In Last Fight Against Japs

Special to the News: Aboard the USS ESSEX in the Pacific—Rufus M. Johnson, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Johnson, serves aboard this carrier which steamed close to the shores of Tokyo with Task Force 38 to launch her planes against the remaining strength of the enemy in the final days of the war.

All hands answered reveille several hours before sunrise that morning. They had had their breakfast and were waiting at their stations for the first light of dawn when the deafening roar of the flight of fighters took off one by one, followed by the bombers and torpedo planes.

Hundreds of Jap planes were destroyed on the ground, but few were sent up to challenge the attacks. The few that dared to fly out to the Task Force never returned.

McGehee Grateful to Canyon Citizens

J. T. McGehee of Wayside was in Canyon Sunday and expressed his appreciation of the work that had been done to secure the paved highway to Wayside.

The new road will be a farm-to-market road running from Highway 87 east toward Wayside. This road was selected by the State Highway Commission as the most urgent road in Randall county and would serve the largest number of people.

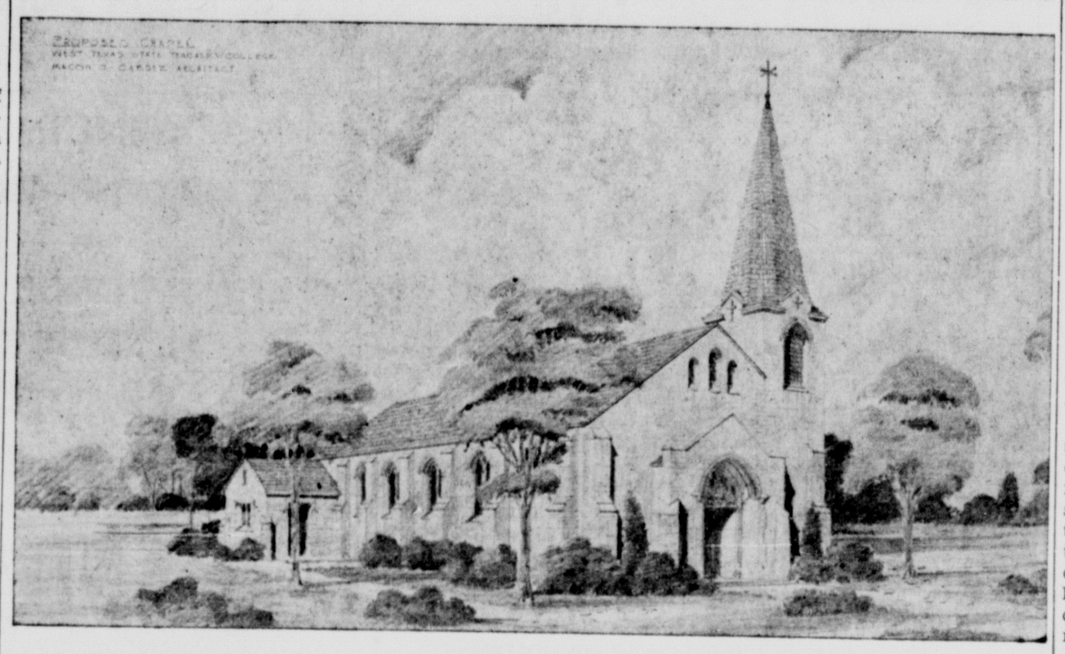
Campaign Is Underway For Chapel at West Texas State



President J. A. Hill is making an active campaign for funds to build the chapel on the campus of West Texas State. The above is the architect's drawing of the proposed building, which will be located at the site of the former home for the president.

Dr. Hill received a check yesterday for $1,000 from White & Kirk in Amarillo. Dean White, manager of the firm stated that he hoped to see the chapel completed soon. Dr. Hill is receiving checks almost daily to apply on the construction of the chapel.

The campaign for funds to erect a chapel on the campus at West Texas State is going forward at the rate of $1200 to $1500 per week in cash contributions. Pledges are running somewhat below this amount. The largest single gift is $1000 and there are three of them. The smallest is $5.00 and there are several of these. There is a total of 77 cash gifts, and the average of cash contributions as of August 31 is approximately $100.00.

There are five $500 cash gifts, coming from Houston, Austin, Amarillo, and Canyon. The first gift made came from Dr. C. T. McCasland at Tulia and was for $300. The gift that came the farthest is from Europe. Another came from Hawaii. Several states of the nation are represented in the contributions.

We ought to have another half dozen $1000 gifts and we need at least 10 more $500 gifts. There will, of course, be hundreds of smaller contributions and these will be appreciated just as much as the larger ones. The campaign in Randall County ought to be closed by September 20, so that we can go to other counties with the proof that the home folks believe in the project. One other county has definitely requested us to put on the campaign there and many communities have expressed interest. Let all who believe in improving the moral and spiritual quality of our country take quick advantage of this opportunity. Mail checks to the Office of the President at the college and you will be given a receipt at once. Books are being audited by Dr. Lee Johnson at the end of each month.

Yours with faith,

J. A. Hill.

Approval Given To Country Road

Farm-to-Market Road to Wayside Is Approved, and May Pave Western Ave

The State Highway Commission hopes to start work on the farm-to-market road toward Wayside before the end of 1945. This information was given to the Commissioners Court in a letter to Judge A. H. Hunt.

Randall county submitted several roads to the state commission, and after a careful check by the commission this one was selected as the one which would serve the largest number of people. The road will leave Highway 87 two miles south of Ralph and go toward Wayside to the county line. Residents of the Wayside community will try to secure the extension of this farm-to-market road into Armstrong county.

A supplemental construction has been approved by the State Highway Commission, calling for the paving of Western Avenue from the city limits of Amarillo south to highway 87. The Commissioners Court is asking for an extension of this paving on Western Avenue at least one mile farther south. This would take care of a large number of residence which have been built along this road. Caliche base was put down on this road by County Commissioner Calvin Casey 4 years ago.

Actual work on these projects will depend upon the labor available as these projects were set up by Congress as a post-war project in order to take care of the unemployment problems of the various counties.

Tommye Smith Has Received Wave Discharge

WAVE Lt. (jg) Tommye C. Smith, daughter of Mrs. Lillian Chambers of 2711 2nd Ave., Canyon, Texas, has received her honorable discharge from the Women's Reserve of the Navy.

Lt. (jg) Smith's husband, a discharged veteran, is Roy V. Smith of Hereford, Texas. The ex-WAVE joined the Navy in March 1943. After receiving her ensign's commission in June of that year she was assigned to duty in Miami and has been in the Classified Mail section of the Gulf Sea Frontier Command.

Cousins Are Home From Germany

Pfc. Aloysious R. Friemel, son of Joe Friemel and Pvt. Francis R. Friemel, son of R. Friemel, arrived home Saturday. These cousins have had an unusual experience in that they enlisted together and have been together the entire time until they were released for furlough.

They have been in the service 17 months, serving 9 months in Germany with the 1290th engineers.

One gave his home address as Amarillo; the other gave Umbarger; therefore Pvt. Francis reports to El Paso and Pfc. Aloysious to San Antonio at the end of their 30 day furlough. But from those points they will be reunited in Georgia where they will meet the rest of their outfit for reassignment.

IN AMARILLO HOSPITAL

T. C. Thompson is in an Amarillo hospital for medical treatment. He will likely undergo an operation within a few days, according to report from his family. Mr. Thompson is the veteran business man of Canyon, with the longest record in business of any man in mercantile circles.

J. D. Barker left Tuesday on a business trip to Clarinda, Iowa.

War Drive to Start Oct. 1

Last Drive For the United War Fund Will Be Asked for Same Quota

The last United War Drive will start throughout the nation on October 1. It is hoped that a sufficient amount of money will be raised in this drive to care for all war relief agencies until all of the men in service have been discharged.

Capt. Olin E. Hinkle, Rev. Joe Findley, County Agent W. H. Upchurch and W. E. Bennett attended a district meeting in Amarillo Thursday at which time plans were made for the drive.

Each county will be asked to raise the same quota as was raised last year.

Milton Morris is county chairman, but was unable to attend the meeting as he is completing work on his Masters Degree in Texas Tech this summer and was required to be in Lubbock.

Dr. Hill Makes Statement on the Chapel Campaign

Some people are asking if it is wise to have two campaigns at the same time. This question is entirely appropriate. Dr. Sheffy and I discussed this before I announced the chapel campaign. It was his opinion, in which I concur, that mainly the two propositions will appeal to different groups of interest, though, to be sure, there will be locally some overlapping of interest. Out over the territory neither project will appeal to all the people and it was our thought that those who are primarily interested in the Museum should not be pressed for contributions to the chapel; and that is the policy we are following. Of course, we have made some general appeals but we have studiously avoided the personal presentation of the chapel to those who are known to have deep interest in the Museum. However, we have received a few liberal donations to the chapel from people who had already contributed liberally to the Museum. But their donations were free will-offerings.

Our suggestion is that those who want to give to a particular cause, as the museum, or the chapel, or athletics, or the band or whatever else they may like, go ahead and do so, each absolutely according to his own wishes. Such procedure will be understood and such action will be appreciated. All of us know that no one can contribute liberally to all these things, though each may be ever so worthy. So let each go ahead according to his own interest and as his conscience and judgment dictate. If every one does his best for the project or projects he most likes there will be money enough for all of them.

Sincerely yours,

J. A. Hill, President.

Amarillo Man Drowned Monday

The second drowning of the summer occurred at Buffalo Lake Monday during the Labor Day holiday.

Casper Alvin Barker of Amarillo was swimming fully clothed in the main channel of the Lake setting a trout line. He was seen to disappear and the body was recovered within 10 minutes. Artificial respiration was applied by several boys, but all efforts to revive him failed.

He was employed in Amarillo as an automobile mechanic.

Mrs. J. W. Trapp of Brownwood, president of Daniel Baker College, is the only woman college president in Texas.

Robt. Avent Plays on University Football Squad

Robert Avent, A-C, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lavert Avent, has been featured in the "Oklahoma City Times" in pictured illustrations of the new rules in football.

Robert is attending the University of Oklahoma at Norman under the V-12 training course for Navy Air Corps. He is making the first team of the University squad. Last year he played with the Millsaps in Mississippi where he was then stationed. Weighing 190 pounds and having had experience through high school on a football squad, Robert's training and interest in the game should make him a formidable opponent.

Abbott Boy Was Accidentally Shot

Billy Mack Abbott accidently shot himself Saturday afternoon in the right arm.

Billy Mack was at the farm alone, repairing a fence. He carried the .22 rifle with him. His father said, "Billy Mack was fixing a fence, and just like a boy had a gun with him. We have not yet asked him exactly how it happened. Those things just happen. He took his shirt off, tied his arm tight, got into the pick up and drove home opening two gates on the way."

The shot entered his right arm just below the elbow and came out in the fleshy part of the upper arm. One of the bones in the fore arm is shattered. Billy Mack is in an Amarillo hospital where he is doing nicely.

Upchurch Explains Handling of the Volunteer Wheat Now on Farms

Much of Volunteer Crop Is Too Thick, and Will Sap Moisture From Land

Some wheat growers are leaving volunteer wheat for pasture on land that is to be fallowed next year.

Much of this volunteer wheat is too thick to stand a long dry spell without exhausting the top moisture.

The amount of pasture for the late winter and early spring months can be increased on this acreage by contour chiseling early in the fall.

If deep chisel furrows are run on the contour of a spacing of 18 to 36 inches and the surface left rough the stand of wheat will not be hurt for grazing. In fact if it is dry in March the chiseled fields will provide more grazing than the fields of volunteer that are left flat and smooth.

In addition to holding the fall and winter moisture for the production of pasture the chiseled fields will be in better shaps for summer fallowing and for wheat the next year. A deeper penetration of moisture will be secured during the process of summer fallow where the contour chiseling is done in the fall before starting the regular fallow plowing.

There is a payment of 30c per acre under the Agricultural Conservation Program for contour chiseling crop land. In the case of volunteer wheat acreage chiseled this fall the payment may be collected on this year's program by turning in a report on it after work is completed (provided no other payment has been claimed on same land this year).

It is recommended that this work be done with heavy chisels or lister beams run 8 to 10 inches deep. They may be spaced as wide as four feet and still qualify for the 30c payment.

Fields that were summer fallowed in 1944 for the wheat crop of 1945 where the fallowing was started the preceding fall by a contour chiseling have paid off in increased yields besides having furnished better wheat pasture during the winter after the chiseling was done in the fall.

This practice is especially adapted this year to fields of volunteer wheat to be pastured and followed by summer fallowing.

W. H. Upchurch, County Agent.

Bannister Takes Position at West Texas Field

SHERMAN E. BANNISTER

G. W. Cox announces the appointment of Sherman E. Bannister as manager of the West Texas State Flying Field, which Mr. Cox has operated for more than two years.

Mr. Bannister has been interested in aviation since 1926, when he started flying. He flew a plane for the Temple Daily Telegram, which was the first Texas newspaper to make air deliveries.

He is personally acquainted with and has worked with most of the pioneers in aviation in Texas.

In 1939 when the nation called for skilled men in the aircraft industry, he went to California with the Douglas Company. He was transfered to Tulsa by his company, and later to Oklahoma. He was with the Army Air Corps as civilian inspector from October, 1944, until July, 1945.

Mr. Cox is highly pleased to secure the service of a man with such wide experience to assume direction of the Flying Field here.

Light Rain, But Low Total For the Entire Year

A light rain Thursday ended July's moisture. This shower amounted to only .05 of an inch, and brought the total moisture for the month to 2.76 of an inch.

The total rainfall for the year now measures 9.65 inches, which is considerably under normal.

Wheat land is being prepared, and some farmers are planting, hoping that the present moisture will be sufficient to get the wheat up. They are needing wheat pasture, owing to the short row crop, and hope to have September moisture to keep the early planting going.

However, a majority of the farmers are not planting wheat. They believe that it will be necessary to kill the weeds before planting. Some do not consider that there is sufficient amount of moisture in the ground to keep the weat growing this fall.

The temperature has been high again this week, reaching 102 on Tuesday.

Editorials

PEACE AT LAST

The world has peace again after six long years since the day Hitler turned his hordes loose on Poland. It is wonderful to again feel that the wires will no longer bring to the homes of Randall county sad messages of fatality among the choice of our young men.

The United States is proud of the part that we played in whipping the aggressor nations.

We furnished more munitions than the world has ever seen produced.

We have shipped more men to battlefronts over the greatest distance than any nation has ever undertaken.

The men on the battle front have been backed by the people at home, who were determined to do the job well.

We have a deep feeling of pride in our nation. There has never been a nation like it, so completely devoid of selfishness during the trying days of war.

Our test now comes. But doesn't it seem a little silly to think that the people of this great nation are not capable of running the affairs of our nation, here at home, after our great accomplishments as a war-time nation?

Our opinion is that the nation will go a long way toward permanent peace if we shall forget our prejudices of the past toward Russia, and frankly tell Stalin what we want and what we expect from his nation.

Furthermore, such two-bit dictators as we have in Spain and Argentine must be handled firmly, and told where to head in.

China and India offer trade outlets which may absorb the output of our factories for many years if we develop them.

The problems at home are big, but not nearly so big as those which we have solved during the war.

The world recognized our leadership. Are we going to poop off this world leadership, as we did after World War I, or shall we assume our place at the head of the table of nations, and continue to deal firmly, but justly, with all nations?

America wants nothing for our part in the war, excepting the necessary facilities which will enable us to keep a sharp watch on the affairs of our neighbors. That is mere justice in view of the tremendous part that his nation has taken in the war.

We were in hopes—mere hopes—that V-J Day would stop some of our unnecessary mail. But it seems that the bureaucrats have not been fired by the President after all. Or did they have the junk all sacked up and so just sent it on, regardless of the termination of the war. The printing fraternity is justly proud of the fact that the biggest and best printing plant in the world is located in Washington—owned by the citizens of the United States. Judging from our mail during the years of war, it seems that everyone in Washington has been making use of this efficient printing plant, and sending out unnecessary printing. Maybe some of it has helped the war efforts, but on the whole it has been entirely wasted. Newspaper men are too busy to wade through all the junk mailed to them. Uncle Sam is not only the sucker of the United Nations, but is a sucker when it comes to paying an army of people to hang around Washington for the purpose of pestering the rest of us who are trying to make a living and pay our taxes.

The Japs are trying to convince the world that they are not such bad chaps after all. Says the Emperor: "We quit; here we are laying down our arms without further struggle. Come right in and help yourselves. We are good folks, just trying to get along." But aside, we hear the Japs say: "We shall avoid the mistakes of this war when we start the next one." And on top of this we have as witnesses the 60,000 mutilated bodies of our men and women who have been punished and starved by the cruel Japs. This does not count the millions of natives of China and other nations. These are evidence enough to show the world that we have a police job ahead for many years. The Japs are still the treacherous nation, which must be policed.

THE LABOR SITUATION

We are not in the least jealous of members of Congress. For the past six years thay have had a comparatively easy job. All they had to do was vote for more appropriations and increase the national debt. This has reached a mere sum of $2,000 for every man, woman and child in the nation. If you cannot pay your share, then it is clear that some one else will have to pay it for you.

Labor enjoyed a holiday during the Roosevelt administration. Labor got everything that it demanded, and its demands were large.

The holiday is over. The war is over. We are no longer living in the fool days of war, when prosperity came to those who had something to sell, or those who wished to work on a war job. Re-adjustment times are here, and this is a tough problem.

We are a little surprised that our economically minded President is in favor of giving a bonus to people for not working. He is in favor of the bill to give $25 per week for 26 weeks to those who are not employed. This simply means that a lot of laborers will not seek jobs so long as they eat at the expense of the public. That's human nature.

Labor has accomplished a wonderful job in providing the best munitions that the world has ever seen. Every nation which has used American made goods during the war has highly praised the products from our factories. The men and women who worked in these plants were paid the highest wages that the world has ever seen. For more than five years they have drawn high wages; have been free from Selective Service; have enjoyed the freedom of American citizens, living at home, while our men were facing shot and shell on the battle fronts, and drawing $50 per month.

Every war worker has known that the war must end some day. Civilization could not stand for a prolonged war. The nation would have been bankrupt unless the war ended. It seems a pity that so many Americans have built their economy on the continuation of the most bloody war that the world has ever seen.

Yet that seems to be just what too many workers have done. They have drawn high wages; lived high; and now that their jobs are terminated and the fat pay envelopes have ceased, too many of them are broke. They should have realized that the war must end, and have been prepared for this ending. It is hard to be sympathetic to this great group of people.

But scolding will not solve the problem. A government dole will not solve the problem.

The facts are that there are plenty of jobs right now, but the wages are not war wages, and those who have been drawing outlandish war wages are simply not going to work for what they are worth. They are demanding the pay that Uncle Sam gave them during the war.

CIO leaders in Detroit come forth with the most fantastic plan we have ever seen. They propose that war workers be given $1,000 to tide them over until they get a job. You understand that Uncle Sam pays our discharged war veterans ONLY $300. Yet the men and women who have drawn the largest pay of the world's history want $1,000. We are wondering just how many of these CIO workers would accept peace time jobs at any price until they spent this proposed bonus.

As another angle, OPA is demanding that car manufacturers set their prices at the same price as cars sold in 1942. That sounds good to the public. But what about the manufacturers? Please remember that every automobile plant has been run by the government during the war. The government increased wages so that the cost of cars has increased, through no fault of the manufacturers all materials are higher today because of the boost in wages. Cars cannot be manufactured today at the 1942 level, simply because of the wage structure which has been established by the government during the war. Will OPA now say that labor must go back to the 1942 level? Certainly not.

The News pointed out many times during the war that we had a labor government. We shall now see what kind of a government we have under Truman. He has thrown labor a bait, whether he gets away with it or not is a different story.

As we see the whole difficulty, we have thousands of bureaucrats in Washington and scattered thruout the land who are about to lose their jobs unless they scare the people into continuing them in public office. Reports are put out every day of unemployment. Predictions are made as to the millions who will be out of jobs—unless these fellows are continued in office. If Congress will put a muzzle on this group and allow laborers to resume their former posts, without government interference, American good sense shall prevail. These fellows cannot create jobs, and therefore should be told to keep their dire predictions to themselves.

We have read with interest about the Democrats of Texas. A money raising barbecue was held at Austin, called a Jefferson Day affair. Governor Coke Stevenson was the only speaker to refer to Jefferson, but the Governor was given a cold shoulder by the assembly. The only reason ht was invited was that a lot of the promoters were afraid to offend him—too much. Senator Connally made a good speech, and stayed clear of controversal questions. There are a lot of Democrates in Texas who are watching his health. Tom is not so young as he used to be; but he is too healthy for some of the ambitious ones to tackle him next year. The principal purpose of the barbecue was to boost Congressman Lyndon Johnson as a candidate for Governor in 1946; and to take swings at Texas Democrats who refused to support Roosevelt for a fourth term. The boys down at Austin had a big time. Senator W. Lee O'Daniel was not invited. He is our Junior Senator, regardless of what we think about him. He says that he is a Democrat, and no one can deny him the privilege of voting as he pleases—or going to the church of his choice. A lot of the fellows who gathered at Austin would like to hang O'Daniel—but this is still a free country. The Austin jubilee was followed by a similar gathering in Fort Worth last week. Pappy O'Daniel's friends gave him a dinner, and Pappy turned the steam on Washington. He ridiculed the Austin meeting—to which he was not invited—and played safe by telling what should be done about our national set-up. He said not a word about running for Governor next year. So there you have it. Connally, a candidate for re-election next year, talking about world peace; Johnson, a candidate for Governor, still trying to ride into office on the New Deal bandwagon; O'Daniel, still the unpredictable.

It is suggested that we turn the secret of the atomic bomb over to the Security Council as a means of preventing another war in the future. To our way of thinking this would be very, very foolish. We spent two billion dollars of our money developing the bomb; we employed the time of thousands of the best scientists in the nation for more than two years. There are more than 50 nations now under the wing of the Security Council. We never know which one might turn out to be a traitor. There is always danger when more than two people know a secret. Germany and Japan would give most anything to get hold of that bomb, and the best way for us to protect the secret—if it is a scientific secret—is to keep it locked up in the United States. The world knows that we shall not use it for the purpose of exploration, but only to maintain peace.

President Truman is realistic about lend-lease. He says that we had as well cancel these debts. That is just what The News has been telling you throughout the war. We have not been lending and leasing to the United Nations—but we have been giving them the war materials. We were silly after World War I and thought we could collect these old debts. Finland alone kept up her payments until she got into the war. We had as well wipe out these debts now and forget them.

Eskimos eat blubber from whales and other sea animals.

"If you were alone on an island and could choose just one book, what would it be?"

President Hill Outlines Reasons For a Chapel

For all practical purposes there is oneness of mind about the advisability of and need for a religious emphasis program at West Texas State—such a program as the proposed chapel represents. Personally I have heard absolutely no opposition or criticism, but widespread approval. However, I have heard of some doubters. In order to satisfy all such, if any, the following statements are made:

1. Moral standards in this country and over the world have greatly deteriorated in the last few years. If you don't think so, read the official statistics on crime and listen to those whose business it is to study and control lawlessness.

2. As a matter of fact, there has never been a day in human history when men did not sorely need a better understanding of life's invisible values. "For the things seen are temporal, but the things not seen are eternal." It is the business of colleges to magnify the unseen values of life—and do it in every way possible. The program we propose will fall short of the needs, but it will help.

3. It may be said that the churches will take care of our moral and spiritual needs. In reply let me say that powerful as the churches are they need the help of every agency they can get. Christianity and sound religion and morals are the concern of every loyal citizen in this country. Too long have we thought of these essential elements of our civilization as something apart from every day life. Too long have we left such matters to the preachers, Sunday School teachers and the churches. We must come to know that Christian Morality is basic in free government and that every loyal citizen must promote it. Education without it is tinkling brass and sounding symbal. The program we offer seeks to support and strengthen the church and likewise improve the quality of citizenship in this Christian democracy.

4. We do not intend that our services at the chapel shall conflict with those of the churches. We plan to give sacred organ recitals Sunday afternoons to which any who come will be welcome. Our Student Christian Association will hold its weekly meetings here instead of in class rooms. Faculty and students will use it daily for private devotions. The chimes, we hope, will ring out periodically the faith of our fathers as expressed in music. Special programs will be held here at Christmas, Easter, etc. Ministers of the area will meet in the chapel students from their home town for personal counsel and guidance. Spiritual leaders of the State and nation will come here for spiritual emphasis week and other occasions. Marriage ceremonies will be consummated in this sacred atmosphere as a climax to college courtships, and there will be other uses too numerous to mention.

Finally, the chapel's tall steeples pointing heavenward, its beautiful and inspiring setting and finish, its silver-toned chimes carrying the faith of our fathers in music to the whole community—these and other factors cannot fail to impress us all, even the casual passer-by, with the essential value of a sound religious faith and the importance of Christian morality in both private and public living.

Friends, Christian and non-Christian, as citizens of the greatest republic in history, you and I carry the heaviest responsibility and face the greatest opportunity that Destiny ever put in the lap of any people. The responsibility and that opportunity cannot be successfully met by forever magnifying the things that are seen. Our boys have won a great victory in the arbitrament of war: let us keep and strengthen and sanctify it through the arbitrament of Christian idealism taught and learned in our schools.

Faithfully yours,
J. A. Hill.

In a recent poll, as to what Goering's punishment should be, the verdict, "Kill him!" won out in a Gallup.

He who toots his own horn soon has everyone dodging him.

There's a lot of homely truth wrapped up in these lines by an unknown writer; it's supposed to be a colored preacher's sermon:

You may notch it on de palin's as a

To make your judgment by de clothes dat kivers up a man;
For I hardly needs to tell you how you often comes across dollar hoss;

An wurkin' in de low ground, you

Dat de fines' shuck may hide de meanes' nubbin' in a row.

I think a man has got a mighty slender chance for hebben
Dat holds on to his piety just one day out o' sebben;
Dat talks about de sinners wid a heap o' solemn chat,
An' nebber draps a nickle in de missionary hat.
Dat's foremost in de meetin--house
for raising all de toons,
But lays aside his 'ligion wid his Sunday pantaloons.

I nebber judge of people dat I meets along de way
By de places what dey come from and de houses where they stay;
For de banty chicken's awful fond o' roostin' pretty high.
An' de turkey buzzard sails above
de eagles in de sky;
Dey ketches little minners in de middle of de sea,
An' you finds de smalles' possum up de biggest kind o' tree.

A negro in the little East Texas town of Lodi mis-uses the English language artistically. When asked, "What is the first thing you do when you enter the court," he replied, "Ah pollutes de jedge." What he meant was that he "salutes" the judge.

Fire destroyed a cafe in Crowell. When the place reopened, the owner advertised, "Portions will be smaller and checks larger on account of the fire." His frankness produced a laugh—and good business.

Little Billy's class had been studying birds in nature study at school. One evening Billy came running to his mother and said excitedly, "Oh, Mother, I just saw a barn swallow."

"Why, Billy," Mother replied, "how ridiculous! What in the world could a barn swallow?"

Visitor: "What does this painting represent?"

Artist: "The daughters of Satan."

Visitor: "Oh, I see—hell's belles."

Bible-Edwards Rites Read

SEYMOUR, Sept. 3.—The ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Salisbury was the scene of the marriage of their niece, Zudie Mae Bible to William H. Edwards of Amarillo Wednesday.

The rites were performed before an improvised altar which was made of native yucca on the stairway. White and crimson gladioli were effectively used against a background of ferns and cactus. Seven branched candelabra holding white tapers flanked the altar.

The bride was gowned in a blue crepe afternoon dress. She carried a bouquet of daisies and feverfew. She was attended by Miss Ada Lee Singleton of Electra.

Ford Bell was best man for Mr. Edwards.

A reception followed the ceremony. The bridal table was covered with a gold damask cloth and centered with a three tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Lywood Dow served the wedding cake and Mrs. Wyndon Fain poured. Mrs. Ford Bell, sister of the bride, secured signatures for the bride's book, and Mesdames William Dowdy, W. C. Neal and Raymond Bible assisted with the serving.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bible of Canyon. She is a graduate of Canyon High School and Texas University and attended West Texas State College.

Mr. Edwards attended an engineering school in Pennsylvania and has since been employed by the Superior Manufacturing Co. in Amarillo.

The couple left for a wedding trip, after which they will be at home in Amarillo. For traveling the bride wore a gabardine suit with gold accessories.

Miss Betty Brown returned home Saturday night after having spent two weeks visiting with her brother and his wife in New York City.

Charlie Reeder from Bakersfield, California, is visiting his niece, Mrs. A. D. Prater and family.

Chapel Endorsed By Chamber of Commerce Board

To the People of Canyon and Randall County:

The Board of directors of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce has given considerable study to the current campaign for money with which to build a chapel on the campus of West Texas State. Individually and collectively we believe thoroughly in this project. Certainly its objectives are entirely praiseworthy and we confidently believe that if carried to completion this program will do great good for the town and county for the college, and for all the youth who come this way. This campaign presents an exceptional opportunity for our people to demonstrate again their interest in and loyalty to the welfare of the youth of Northwest Texas. We hope that our citizens of all classes and religious affiliations and even those without such affiliations will contribute liberally to this most worthy enterprise.

Shamrock Starts Campaign Tells of Gas Products

From the day Am-torg, the great Russian trading company, placed a frantic rush order with The Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation for trainloads of Iso-pentane to be used by the U. S. S. R. in staving off the German push of 1941, to the more recent conversions to meet requirements of the United States government, the Shamrock refinery has been engaged primarily in producing war fuel needs.

The facilities, technical advancements, and experience developed by this independent corporation during war years are now being converted to the production and improvement of Shamrock's new gasoline and other motor fuels, according to Shamrock officials. These products are handled by independent Shamrock dealers here in Canyon and elsewhere.

To back up its postwar marketing program, Shamrock has released an extensive newspaper advertising campaign, first insertion of which appears today in the News.

Mrs. R. C. Taylor of Dalhart spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Berl Mayfield.

The angora cat was bred originally in the Turkish capital.

Families May Continue Receive Soldier Assistance

Even though hostilities have ceased, family allowances will continue to be paid for an indefinite period to eligible dependents of Army men and women until such soldiers are discharged from active service. Class E allotments-of-pay will also continue to be paid under the customary ODB procedure.

This was stated today by Brig. Gen. Leonard H. Sims, USA, Acting Director of the War Department Office of Dependency Benefits in Newark.

As soldiers leave the service, however, the benefits are discontinued, he emphasized. Eligibility ceases at the end of the month in which discharge occurs.

Under the Servicemen's Dependents Allowance Act of 1942, as amended, family allowances are payable for six months after the termination of war, to those dependents whose soldiers are still in the Army and in a pay status, General Sims explained. This may be some time after the actual fighting ends, he pointed out, since war is terminated as of the date set by Congress. World War I was terminated in July, 1921, when Congress by a joint resolution declared the war ended. World War II will be terminated by similar Congressional action.

Accordingly, the ODB—the largest activity of the Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces—will continue to disburse family allowances and Class E allotments-of-pay to eligible dependents of Army men and women who are in active service anywhere, whether they are in the armies of occupation in the European or Pacific theaters of war or are stationed within the limits of the continental United States.

As soldiers leave the service, the ODB will have the additional task of discontinuing their family allowances and Class E allotments-of-pay—not to mention the claims to be settled. And of course, the ODB has the continuing task of processing changes of status on accounts still in effect.

Wife: "Oh, I'm so glad you came home in time to dress! We're going to have a newly-married couple for dinner."

Husband: "I'm glad, too. They ought to be pretty tender."

First Baptist Church
Amarillo, Texas

Dear Dr. Hill:

Your speech at the San Jacinto Club (Kiwanis) today was one of the finest examples of Christian statesmanship I ever witnessed. Your interpretation of history's chief lesson, arrived at through processes of research, and applied with courage and insight, made the immediate objectives—the religious emphasis on the campus of West Texas State College—both reasonable and imperative. Sound faith like yours will assure the securing of money for these purposes, for people will respond to that kind of leadership. I am grateful to you.

Cordially,

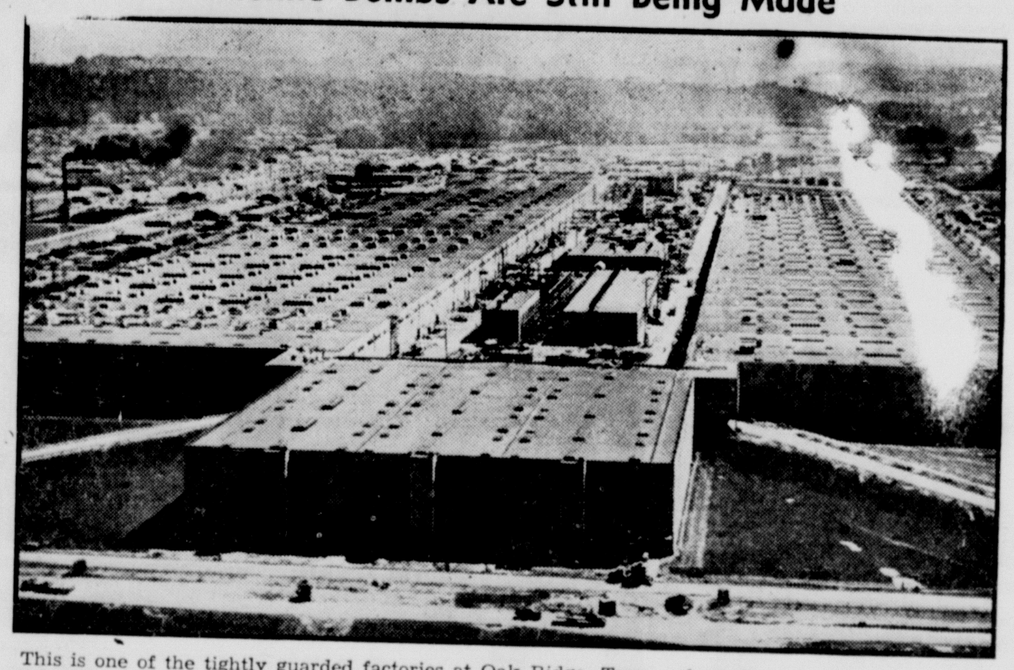
Atomic Bombs Are Still Being Made



This is one of the tightly guarded factories at Oak Ridge, Tenn., where the atomic bomb was developed—and is still being made, President Truman said. This is one of the eight plants of the Clinton Engineer Works, a government reservation covering 59,000 acres.

Notes From The County H. D. Agent

For the next few weeks it will be our plan to publish recipes for preparing and canning foods to be sent overseas. Past experience has shown that foods packed in tin cans arrive at their destination in much better condition than those packed by other methods. One of the most popular and successfully canned foods is fruit cake. The following recipe is large and might be used by a group of neighbors in preparing overseas packages. It will make 12 number 2 cans.

How to Can the Famous Old Fruitcake

1 lb. grapefruit peel or citron
1 lb. pecans or black walnuts
½ lb. whole butternuts or almonds if desired
1 lb. candied pineapple
1 lb. candied red watermelon rind or cherries
3 lb. seeded raisins or currants
1½ lb. figs, dates or apricots
½ lb. butter or margarine
½ cup fruit juice or sweet picqle syrup
6 eggs
2 lb. brown sugar
1 lb. flour (4 cups)
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon allspice
½ teaspoon salt

Wash and dry raisins or currants. Cut in half inch cubes the grapefruit peel, candied pineapple and other fruit. Leave cherries and nuts whole. Stir flour and spices. Cream butter and sugar in another container. Add beaten egg yolks to fat mixture. Mix a small amount of flour mixture with raisins and dates to keep them from sticking together. Add flour mixture alternately with fruit juices to the creamed fat mixture. Add fruits and nuts. Mix thoroughly.

Grease or line plain tin cans. Use waxed paper or butter paper which has been oiled for lining. Fill cans to within one inch of top with batter. Tie heavy brown wrapping paper which has been greased on top of the cans to keep water out during steaming. Place cans in pressure canner which has about three inches of boiling water in it. Fasten the lid, but leave the petcock open. Steam number 1 cans 60 minutes and number 2 cans 75. Take paper covers off cans, seal, and put back in canner. Process at 12 pounds pressure for 30 minutes.

Honey or molasses may be used to replace the sugar, but if it is the other liquid should be reduced one-fourth. Honey is as sweet as sugar and is good to keep the cake moist.

OPA States That Household Goods on Market Soon

Consumers are told that household washing machines, ironers and aluminum kitchenware will be back in the stores this fall at 1942 prices, according to OPA.

The Office of Economic Stabilization approved extension of the price program for consumer durable goods to the entire reconversion. In outline, the program is to grant increases at the production level to compensate for cost increases since 1941, when necessary to assure maximum production. Wholesalers and retailers, not the consumer, will absorb a substantial amount of these increases where their margins reasonably permit them to do this.

The output of household washing machines should reach pre-war levels this fall and shoppers should be able to find them in the stores in quantity by the end of the year.

The picture is pretty much the same for aluminum kitchen ware. Of course, shoppers should remember that washing machines and cooking utensils have been out of stock for some time and probably will be bought up quickly.

Production of ironers will come along more slowly.

Sgt. Smarrt: "I'll show you in a jiffy just how to operate that mashine gun. I've got it all in a nutshell."

Yardbird Buzz: "So, you've memorized it all, huh."

Churchmen Praised Religious, Moral Atmosphere Here

Rev. W. R. Mann, Sunday School Missionary for the Presbyterian Church, moved to Canyon because the religious and moral atmosphere of West Texas State and of the town. He was advised by pastors of other denominations that it was the best place for him to move in order to place his children in college.

Rev. Mann made a classification talk at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday, telling of his work as Sunday School Missionary.

The presbyterian Church started the movement in 1706. The church decided to go into communities where there was no religious organizations and start Sunday Schools. By working through the children the church was assured of future development and future church organizations. 95% of the Presbyterian Churches of the nation were started under such a plan.

Mr. Mann started in the work after teaching in Nebraska and Wyoming. His family had always been ardent Sunday School workers. He related many unique experiences of his early days in this work.

He was assigned to the oil fields of Texas in 1929. His family lived in Odessa for three years and 12 years in Midland before they moved to Canyon. The splendid recommendation given to Canyon by pastors of all denominations caused him to select this field in preference to others which were offered him.

Mr. Mann stated that the Presbyterian Church was attempting to go into those communities where no religious opportunities were offered and organize Sunday Schools.

Capt. Olin E. Hinkle was welcomed back into the club after having been in the Army Air Corps for 28 months; likewise Glenn Truax who has been away for the summer.

Visitors were: Hardy E. Stevens, Plainview; Glen Allen, Ft. Sumner; Rev. G. L. Messenger, Denton; J. E. Bowman, L. Wood Jackson, Arch Hunsley, J. Francis Brown, Irving Tolzien, W. W. Rusk, Horace Griggs, E. C. Wagner, Allen Early, Tom Cotton, all of Amarillo; Rev. Joe Findley, Tommy Cole, Pvt. Tom Knighton, Jr., all of Canyon.
